Kenneth W. Starr

Kenneth W. Starr Hooding Speaker

Kenneth W. Starr served as Solicitor General of the United States from May 27, 1989, to January 20, 1993, during which time he argued twenty-five cases before the Supreme Court of the United States involving a wide range of governmental, regulatory, and constitutional issues of significant importance. Prior to taking the oath of office as Solicitor General, he served as a judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. He also served in the Department of Justice as Counselor to United States Attorney General William French Smith from January 1981 until his appointment to the bench in 1983. He is currently a partner with the law firm of Kirkland & Ellis in Washington, D.C.

Before entering government service, Starr practiced law in Los Angeles and Washington, D.C., with the firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, where he was a partner in litigation practice. Upon earning his law degree, he served as a law clerk to United States Court of Appeals Judge David W. Dyer (1973-74) and as law clerk to Chief Justice Warren E. Burger (1975). He is a member of the bars of California, Virginia, District of Columbia, and U.S. Supreme Court.

Kenneth W. Starr was born on July 21, 1946, in Vernon, Texas, and was raised in San Antonio. He earned his A.B. in 1968 from George Washington University and his A.M. from Brown University in 1969. He graduated as the Hughes Inn Graduate of the Year from Duke Law School in 1973, earning Order of the Coif honors. While in law school, he served as Note & Comment Editor of the Duke Law Journal and president of the Duke International Law Society.

A very accomplished author, Starr has published more than twenty law review articles and contributed to various other publications. His scholarship has been directed to such topics as the future of the federal judiciary and the Supreme Court, judicial review, the Establishment Clause, and statutory interpretation and the use of legislative history.

He has also rendered invaluable service to the organized bar, judiciary, legal organizations, and academic institutions. Among his contributions, he has served as Master of the Bench, American Inns of Court, as chair of the Committee on Preemption, on the Executive Committee of the Appellate Judges Conference, as president of the Institute of Judicial Administration, as chair of the Federal Civil Justice Reform Working Group, and on the board of visitors of four law schools and two universities. His record of service to the legal profession has gained him respect as one of the leaders of the bar in America.

Outstanding Academic Achievement Recognitions

The following students (listed alphabetically, but not ranked) represent approximately the upper ten percent of the 1993 Graduating Class based upon academic performance through the conclusion of five of six semesters of law study. Ranking for official degree honors and election to the Order of the Coif cannot be determined until submission of all final grades for May graduates. Numerical divisions among students for special honors are often determined by very narrow margins, and the composition of the final upper ten percent of the class may vary from those students herein recognized.

Outstanding Professor Award

Awarded by election of the members of the third-year class in recognition of outstanding performance as a teacher.

Professor Morgan E. Shipman

A member of the College of Law faculty since 1969, Professor Shipman is a highly respected teacher who has profound mastery of his subjects. Professor Shipman's teaching interests include courses in Securities Regulation, Advanced Securities Regulation, Business Associations, Agency, Business Planning, Debtor-Creditor, Legal Accounting, Federal Income Taxation, and Legal Profession. He now becomes a four-time recipient of the College of Law Outstanding Professor Award (he was previously honored in 1971, 1980 and 1981), and in 1971 he was one of six persons to receive the University-wide Distinguished Teaching Award. Since September 1974, he holds a professorship as the John W. Bricker Professor of Law.

In addition to teaching at Ohio State, Professor Shipman was an assistant professor of law, Harvard University Law School, from 1965 to 1968, and has served as a visiting professor at Stetson University, University of Alabama, University of California (Berkeley), New York University, Cumberland Law School of Samford University, Indiana University, Bloomington, University of Michigan, and University of Texas. Professor Shipman has published many articles in his field of scholarship and is a frequent and popular lecturer at continuing legal education seminars. He also is often called upon to testify before various legislative committees on matters related to corporate and securities legislation.

Professor Shipman received both his B.B.A. and his LL.B. from the University of Texas. He finished first in his class both in the College of Business Administration and in law school. While earning his LL.B., he served as associate casenote editor of the Texas Law Review, and graduated with Order of the Coif honors. Prior to entering law teaching, he worked as an associate with Covington & Burling, and served as special counsel to the Securities & Exchange Commission, Office of Program Planning, in Washington, D.C.

The Juris Doctor Hood

Ceremony and symbolism share an important part of the human experience by providing tangible signs of personal achievement and commitment. Today, the investment of the Juris Doctor Hood and the presentation of the diploma case, soon to be filled with the official Juris Doctor degree of The Ohio State University, acknowledge the hard work, dedication, and exceptional academic achievement of the graduates of the Class of 1993. The investment of the hood also manifests for each recipient a continuing commitment to the values and responsibilities represented by the Juris Doctor degree. This ceremony marks for the members of the Class of 1993 passage from the status of student to entry into the learned profession of the law.

The wearing of the academic hood is a centuries-old tradition. It is an enduring symbol of high academic achievement, and it shall be the privilege of each recipient so invested to wear this hood and gown whenever in the future such academic attire is appropriate. The colors of the hood also have their own symbolism. The color of purple represents the study of law and the conferral of the Juris Doctor degree. The scarlet and gray colors for the hood lining represent The Ohio State University, the degree-granting institution.

The Hooding Committee

The Chairperson of the Hooding Committee thanks the members for their hard work and dedication in planning and implementing various tasks related to graduation and the class gift solicitation. Members include Kathryn Collins Ehrle, Drew Alan Gardner, Barbara Andrea Harris, Jo Ellen Hayes, Jeffrey Leland Kapp, Lee Anne Mieseler, Jeffrey Mark Poth, Todd Lesley Sarver, and Aariann Alisha Vaughn. Appreciation is also expressed to second-year student Doreen Delaney, serving as sergeant-at-arms, and to the student ushers.

With Appreciation

The Class of 1993 wishes to recognize our parents, families and friends for all of their love and support throughout the past three years. We also wish to thank the faculty who have dedicated themselves to maintaining and instilling within us high standards of academic excellence and professionalism, the staff of the College for their many services and support, and the alumni whose contributions enhanced the academic programs and made possible, in large measure, the Law Building Addition and Renovation which was dedicated on Law Day, May 1, 1993.
